Presidential Nominations of the National Conventions.

VIEWS OF PROMINENT MEN.

Politicians of Both Parties from All Parts of the Country Now in Washington Interviewed on the Subject—Other Dispatches Bearing on the Political Situation.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 16.—An unusual number of prominent politicians are in the city at present, and they have been expressing their views on the presidential possibilities of the season.

Chairman Jones Interviewed.
B. J. Jones, of Pittsburg, chairman of the Republican national committee in 1884, said: "I do not hesitate to say that I think Mr. Harrison will be nominated, and that the outlook for his election is a bright one, and daily grows brighter. As to the Democratic nomination I can only make a guess. I think it will be Cleveland. The chief issues in the campaign will be protection and sound money, so far as the Republicans are concerned, and the Democrats will oppose both of them."

Hon. Poindexter Dunn, of Arkansas.
Hon. Poindexter Dunn, for ten years a representative from the First Arkansas district, but who has spent the last three years in Los Angeles, Cal., speaking of politics on the Pacific coast, said: "The local sentiment out there is strongly in favor of Mr. Cleveland. He has the confidence of the masses, and if the question comes to the will of the people I have no doubt about him being the nominee. The question of availability, however, will have to be taken into consideration, and considering the warring factions in New York, I am inclined to think some western man will be nominated." Turning to the other side, Mr. Dunn said: "Mr. Blaine's withdrawal is certainly a great disappointment to the Republicans throughout the country. He is stronger with the masses to-day than at any time during his life."

Hon. J. Kintnerell, of California.
Hon. J. Kintnerell, from 1872 to 1879 a Democratic congressman from California, said: "California can be carried again by Harrison, but Blaine would have carried the state by, I think, 20,000. There is a division of sentiment between Cleveland and Hill. However, a western man will suit us better, any one of four—Morrison or Palmer, of Illinois; Boise, of Iowa, or Gray, of Indiana. Alger is a very popular Republican on the coast. I have heard just such political sentiment all the way along the line, in Nevada, Nebraska and Iowa."

Ex-Congressman J. H. Sweeney, of Iowa.
Ex-Congressman J. H. Sweeney, of Iowa, said: "Iowa has always been very strongly attached to Mr. Blaine. Now that he is not a candidate, recognizing as they do that Mr. Harrison has given the country an admirable administration, it seems quite probable that he may receive the support of the state in the next convention. I don't think that it is possible at the present time, though, to say to a certainty, that such will be the case. If either Clarkson or Allison with the support of Iowa, it would doubtless be enthusiastically accorded. Governor Boies will, in my opinion, receive the support of the Iowa delegation at the next national Democratic convention, and I deem him much more available presidential timber than a number of others whose names are mentioned in that connection. The fact that he has been twice elected governor of Iowa, together with the fact that he is a man of ability, will arrest the attention and receive careful consideration from delegates from the whole country."

Ex-Congressman Young, of Tennessee.
Ex-Congressman Casey Young, of Memphis, on his way home from a business trip to New York, thinks the opposition to Hill will not amount to a row of pins. "Why," said he, "Mr. Hill is the absolute boss of the situation in New York. He is the only real leader the Democratic party has had for a quarter of a century. Democrats there know it, and the country is fast coming to the same conclusion. I have always been an ardent Cleveland supporter, but Mr. Cleveland, with all his rugged backbone, does not approach Mr. Hill as a leader of his party. Hill's policy is that of his party, and he has never yet failed to record the will of his party in the strictest Jacksonian terms so far as lie is in his power. It is that quality that has made Mr. Harrison such a ready choice for renomination with his party. Mr. Hill can carry New York, and he can be elected if nominated, for he is a born political leader."

L. W. Magruder, of Mississippi.
On the other hand, Mr. L. W. Magruder, of Vicksburg, who has also been in New York says: "Senator Hill can not win the presidential nomination. The sentiment against Hill in New York is growing bitter every day. They have a spiteful way over there of killing off a man when they see him assuming too much control. Men who supported Mr. Hill for governor are joining in this revolt. Then, another thing, his Elmira speech has weakened him. The situation seems to be Hill has slain Cleveland, and has committed suicide by over-reaching himself. In other words, he has not permitted the people to deliberate, but he has assumed to dictate; and it will not be Cleveland. The nomination will go west. Who will be the winner, I will not venture to guess. Mississippi's delegation will go uninstructed, and make a choice after they get to Chicago."

Colonel R. J. Denham, of Missouri.
A prominent Missouri politician is Colonel R. J. Denham. He says that Missouri will send Cleveland a solid delegation to Chicago. "It does not like his silver views, but it does like his notions on the tariff. So far as Cleveland goes, the Missouri Democracy is like the man who married the ugly woman: 'I don't like her looks any better than you do,' he explained to his mother, 'but I did not marry her for looks; I married her because she's a good housekeeper.' Cleveland's a mighty good presidential housekeeper, and we'll put up with a few anti-silver notions. If Missouri can't have Cleveland it will want a man from the west. Missouri is getting tired of being run by New York. So is the entire west. If you want to see Democracy out our way—the good old Tom Benton Democracy—dwindle, peak and pine, you want to keep getting your orders from New York."

Hon. R. J. Lowe, of Alabama.
Hon. R. J. Lowe, of Birmingham, Ala., says Alabama will send a solid delegation to Chicago for Senator Hill, and that, while it will be a red-hot fight between Hill and Harrison, he believes Hill will win in November.

MORTON NOT A CANDIDATE.

The Vice President Wants Secretary Tracy to Be His Successor.

New York, Feb. 16.—A Washington special to The Recorder says: When Vice President Morton called upon President Harrison a day or two ago to express his thanks for the appointment of his nephew, Mr. Grinnell, as third assistant secretary of state, he assured the president that he was heartily in favor of his renomination. In view of the vice president's well known caution and his relation to New York politics, this announcement is regarded in political circles here as possessing considerable significance.

It is also stated on authority close to the vice president that he has informed the president of his intention to withdraw from office at the close of his present term. Mr. Morton has said to friends within a short time, and has intimated to the president that, in his opinion, Secretary Tracy would make an admirable candidate for the vice presidency.

The secretary's extraordinary success at the head of the navy department has recommended him to many of the leaders at Washington, and intimations have been received from New York that his nomination would be acceptable to all sections of the party there.

A strong and influential movement for the ticket reading "Harrison and Tracy" is on the cards.

TELLER TALKS.

Blaine Will Not Persist in Declining the Nomination.

DENVER, Feb. 16.—Senator Teller says: "There is a suspicion that Blaine will not persist in his declination if his friends can get him to demand that he shall remain a candidate. I see no reason why the Republicans of Colorado should favor Mr. Harrison's renomination, and I do not think he is stronger elsewhere than various other candidates who will be presented to the Minneapolis convention."

"I have no personal controversy with President Harrison, but he has been the persistent opponent of free coinage and of every step looking to the rehabilitation of silver as legal tender money. I think we will secure the passage of a free coinage bill through congress, the opposition of the president to the contrary notwithstanding. But no one believes that the president will under any circumstances approve such a measure."

United for Hill.

NEW YORK, Feb. 16.—A political conference was held Saturday night in the Hotel Normandie. Senator Hill was there with the Tammany chiefs and Brooklyn leaders. A decision was arrived at the delegates chosen to the Chicago convention must go under instructions for Hill, and as a unit for that gentleman.

MURDER MEANT.

Repeated Attempt to Do Away With Two Sisters.

LAWRENCEBURG, Ind., Feb. 16.—Some one is evidently trying to get Emma and Julia Cassidy out of the way. They are daughters of Sarah Cassidy, who died leaving an estate worth about $4,000, and over which there has been much litigation.

Recently the two girls obtained judgment for $1,000 against the estate and the feeling is higher than ever. Several nights ago the homestead in which the girls were living was burned to the ground and the girls took shelter in a friend's house. Friday night this was set afire, but the girls escaped with their lives. They believe some one is trying to murder them, and the matter will be brought to the attention of the grand jury.

STRUCK A SNAG.

The Steamer Eugene Sinks in the Arkansas River.

MEMPHIS, Feb. 16.—The steamer Eugene, plying between Memphis and Pine Bluff, Ark., struck a snag five miles north of Helena yesterday, and went to the bottom of the river.

No lives were lost. The boat is worth $18,000, with no insurance. Four hundred bales of cotton and several hundred bags of cotton seed made up the cargo.

The boat is the property of the Memphis and Arkansas River Packet company.

One More Victim.

MIDDLESBORO, Ky., Feb. 16.—A serious shooting affray took place yesterday afternoon at Stony Fork quarry, three miles from this place, as a result of the Turner-Parton feud. Frank Martin, who had been working in the quarry for a few days past, was notified several times to leave. Yesterday afternoon William Brooks, of the Parton gang, came up on Martin suddenly and began firing. Several shots took effect, one in Martin's stomach, which physicians are well proved fatal. Brooks fled to the mountains and is still at large.

THE BATTLE BEGUN.

Continuous Firing at the Tennessee Mines.

SEVERAL PEOPLE WOUNDED.

Gatling Guns and Howitzers in Use Every Night—Serious Trouble Expected and Both Sides Confident of Victory—The Outbreak Expected at Any Moment.

COAL CREEK, Tenn., Feb. 16.—Company G, Second regiment, Tennessee guards, with eighty men, a Gatling gun and a six-pound howitzer, commanded by Captain Keller Anderson, has just been placed in a strong position commanding the town and the railway approaches.

A number of shots have been exchanged almost every evening since Thursday. Several miners are reported wounded.

Trouble is expected by both sides, and both are confident of victory. The troops fired over the town, and the excitement is intense.

Threats of a raid on the military camp are heard on all sides.

The parties doing the shooting, fire at the town element. The troops are acting very insolently toward the citizens, and a renewal of the outbreak is expected at any moment.

The postmaster was fired upon and driven into his house last Thursday night.

A man at Clinton, Tenn., is reported to have died from a bullet wound received three weeks ago.

One mine out of ten is working 125 convicts, who are strongly guarded. Troops are stationed at Oliver Springs, but everything is quiet there.

The shooting was all done after dark. The troops captured a lot of dynamite on Walden's ridge quarry.

SMALL DEBT.

It Leads to a Quarrel and Finally a Murder.

MOORESTOWN, Tenn., Feb. 16.—A bloody tragedy was enacted at Witt's Foundry, a little village six miles south of this city, yesterday. It started from a small debt that was due. Bob Livisay owed Marion Wilmeth, and Wilmeth had levied on a banjo belonging to Livisay for the debt.

This enraged Livisay, and he got on a drunk and proceeded to whip Wilmeth, and commenced by cursing him, calling him all kinds of vile names. Armed with a heavy club, he made an advance toward Wilmeth, as if to hit him, when Wilmeth picked up a revolver and fired twice at him, one shot passing through his bowels and the other through his hip. It is thought that both shots will prove fatal. Wilmeth was put under arrest.

Farmers' Alliance Dying Out.

NOBLESVILLE, Ind., Feb. 16.—The Farmers' Alliance, which for a time made such a stir in this county, has practically died out as suddenly as it sprang into life. Places once boasting of largely-attended meetings are now almost deserted. Alliance stores, which contemplated supplying the farmer at prices less than demanded by regular merchants, have not been established, and the Alliance mill and elevator, which were talked of so strongly, have failed to materialize. It now seems as if the leaders and their following have largely drifted back into old party lines.

Meet Twenty Years Afterward.

ANDERSON, Ind., Feb. 16.—Judge Alfred Ellison, of this city, had a singular experience. Twenty years ago, while employed on a farm, he had a quarrel with a fellow employee named Albert Allen, who accused Ellison with exposing him as being a married man. While Ellison was at work in the field Allen attempted to kill him with a shotgun, but Ellison was too quick for him and saved his life. The two men never met again until a few days ago, when Allen was a witness in a case before Judge Ellison. They gave each other some hard looks.

Narrow Escape From Cremation.

CANTON, O., Feb. 16.—A fire originating in the furnace at Dr. Fyle's private hospital yesterday caused a loss of $6,000. Dr. Fyle and Miss Miller, a medical student, had a narrow escape from death, being partly suffocated when rescued by firemen. The remainder of the inmates of the institution escaped uninjured. The fire started from an overheated furnace in the basement, and before it reached the hospital destroyed the stock of groceries on the lower floor.

Suing a Railroad.

TRENTON, Feb. 16.—The Phoenix Iron company, of Trenton, contractors of the structural iron of the North Sea Rock lighthouse of the Pacific coast, brought suit against the Philadelphia and Reading railroad for $1,400 for delaying the delivery of their iron. They contracted to carry it for $1,193, but it was not released until $780 more was paid at its destination. This caused a delay of twenty-six days, and the government deducted $520 from the contract prices.

Last Child Gone.

MARION, Ind., Feb. 16.—A daughter of John Thornburg, a prominent contractor and citizen, died yesterday of a complication of the grip. She is the last of his children, four having died within a year.

A Strike May Follow.

SPRINGFIELD, O., Feb. 16.—General Superintendent Peck, of the Big Four, has offered the Sandusky division men a raise, but not the system standard as petitioned for. It is reported they will not accept.

SHUT DOWN ON.

A Number of Insurance Companies Blacklisted By Indiana's State Auditor.

INDIANAPOLIS, Feb. 16.—The auditor of state yesterday added the names of several insurance companies to the list of those already on the insurance blacklist, and has warned the citizens of the state not to do business with them. Some of the companies are financially responsible, but have failed to comply with the insurance laws of the state, while others are notoriously irresponsible.

Among those blacklisted yesterday are the Macon, Atlanta Home and Georgia Home, of Georgia; the Merchants' Mutual, the Crescent, the Southern and the Fireman, of New Orleans; the Peabody and the German, of Wheeling; the Palatine, of Manchester, England; the Quebec, of Canada, and the Imperial, of Calcutta.

M. DE LESSEPS DYING.

The Last Sacraments Administered to the Great French Engineer.

PARIS, Feb. 16.—Count Ferdinand De Lesseps, the world-famed diplomat and promoter of colossal feats of engineering, is lying dangerously ill. He is perfectly conscious of his critical condition, and last night expressed his desire that the last sacraments of the church be administered to him.

M. De Lesseps was born Nov. 19, 1805, and entered the consular service of France at the age of twenty-three in the capacity of attaché to the French consulate at Lisbon. His fame is based principally upon the scheme to pierce the isthmus of Suez by means of a canal which originated with him, and his complete success in carrying it out.

COTTON ON THE QUAY.

Extensive Fire at the Liverpool Docks, and One Hundred Vessels Burned.

LIVERPOOL, Feb. 16.—Fire started last evening in Bramley's cotton shed on Moore dock and spread rapidly to the quay, upon which was piled an enormous quantity of cotton in bales just landed. A number of vessels were lying at the dock loading or discharging their cargoes, and tugs at once began towing them out into the stream.

One of the vessels, the Spanish steamer Ramon De Larrinaga, which had just arrived with a cargo of cotton from New Orleans, caught fire in several places before she could be removed from her berth. The vessel and such of her cargo as remained on board were wholly consumed.

Valuable Building Destroyed by Fire.

PHILADELPHIA, Feb. 16.—One of the large buildings in the group composing the plant of John and James Dobson, Falls of Schuylkill, was destroyed by fire yesterday evening. Loss, $150,000. The building was 150 feet long, 120 feet wide and five stories in height, and was filled with valuable machinery and blankets. Two hundred and fifty hands were employed in the building at the time the fire broke out, but all escaped without injury except a few slight burns. There is no insurance on building or contents, aside from the insurance account kept by the firm.

Fighting in New Mexico.

DENVER, Feb. 16.—A dispatch from Albuquerque, says that the Navajo Indians opened fire upon livestock in sight of the cowboys near Colliage station, on the Atlantic and Pacific railroad Saturday afternoon. The cowboys determined to stand the outrages no longer and attacked the redskins yesterday morning. The Navajos greatly outnumbered the cowboys, but the latter were better armed. The fight is still on, and four of the Indians are said to have been killed and many of the cowboys and ranchmen wounded.

Insane from La Grippe.

AURORA, Ind., Feb. 16.—Mrs. Mary Niebaum, wife of Henry Niebaum, of the firm of Niebaum & Stenver, of this city, has been suffering from la grippe for some days. Nothing strange was thought of the case until Saturday, when she grew worse. Since then her mind has become affected. A nurse is in constant attendance. This is the second severe attack of this kind in a week. The other case was that of Joseph Curtis, who can not recover. Physicians report the disease as more violent this year than any year previously.

Pauper Gets a Fortune.

MARION, Ind., Feb. 16.—D. D. Kingsley, an inmate of the Grant county poorhouse, received by registered letter yesterday a legacy of $5,000 left by his mother in Ireland. Kingsley, twenty-five years ago, was chased out of Ireland for joining the Fenians. He was one of the conspirators under Head-Center Stephens. He has lived in this and surrounding counties a dozen years, working on ditches, and he has been in several poorhouses.

Three Miners Killed.

DENVER, Feb. 16.—An accident occurred in the Lillie Gibson mine at Aspen, Colo., yesterday, through which the following miners were killed: Michael Eggers, W. L. Shippe and M. Caples. The Mollie Gibson is the richest silver mine in the world.

Schooner Wrecked.

Gored to Death by a Bull.

FORT WAYNE, Ind., Feb. 16.—Charles Ludwig, a wealthy farmer, was gored by a bull Sunday night and died yesterday.

EVENING BULLETIN.

DAILY, EXCEPT SUNDAY.
ROSSER & MCCARTHY,
Proprietors.

TUESDAY, FEBRUARY 16, 1892.

Isn't it about time for the Kentucky Legislature to get a move on itself? Five weeks preparation ought to have given the members a good ready.

It is said the Equitable Insurance Company's office building in New York, containing 843 rooms, brings in an income of $300,000 a year. One building like that would be as much as an ordinary every-day editor would care to own.

"UNITED we stand, divided we fall." The Democratic leaders at Washington City ought to pin this motto in their hats. At the way things have been going of late the party will soon be divided into so many wings that it will be almost impossible for them to "dop together" next fall.

PRESIDENT HARRISON is hardly chump enough to request that no negro delegate be sent from the South to the next National Republican Convention. He knows that without the colored vote the Republicans wouldn't stand much of a show in many Northern States, and therefore no show at all in a National contest.

Of course every citizen of Maysville would be benefited to some extent by the building up of the city, but the parties who own the undeveloped real estate in the Sixth ward and East End generally are especially interested in the industrial growth of our city. Ten or twelve gentlemen own most of that real estate. Why don't they get together and combine on some manufacturing enterprise? We suggest that they hold a conference on the subject. The only way to increase the value of that real estate is to build up Maysville, and the way to do that is to bring in new factories and give people steady employment.

QUADRENNIAL ASSESSMENTS.

Change in the Present System Recommended—A Pension Bill—Doings of the Legislature.

In the House at Frankfort yesterday Dr. Woods, of Warren, offered a resolution to instruct the Revisory Commission to amend their work on revenue and taxation so that assessments on local property shall be made quadrennially instead of annually, as now provided. Dr. Woods claimed that the resolution would not interfere with the returns of the revenue system, and would save to the State almost $160,000 every year. The resolution is meant to put into practice the Ohio law on this subject. An amendment to call upon the Auditor for information as to the cost of assessments in the last four years was accepted. The resolution was allowed to go into the orders of the day.

A message from the Governor contained the official notification to the House that the $600,000 direct tax from the general government had been received. The message was referred to the Committee on Revenue and Taxation.

In the Senate, Mr. Poyntz introduced a bill to create the office of stenographer in the Circuit Courts. It provides that he shall be chosen by the Circuit Judge, who shall also fix his fees. The salary shall not exceed $5 per day.

Senator George, of Graves, introduced a bill to pension disabled ex-Confederate and ex-Federal soldiers. The bill provides for a Board of Pension Examiners to consist of the Auditor, Attorney General and two ex-Federal soldiers, to be appointed by the Governor, and who shall serve for four years without pay. The Board is to be invested with full power to hear and determine all applications for pensions, and to follow strict rules and regulations touching such applications, to hear evidence at such times and places and in such manner as they may desire, and to allow and refuse pensions according to the equities of the case. The Board is furthermore supplied with authority over the pension roll, and it is made their duty to strike from the roll such names as may be improperly there. Only disabled soldiers, Federal and Confederate, that enlisted from Kentucky in Kentucky regiments, or contiguous to this State at the time of their enlistment in regiments of other States, who are now residents of this State, or citizens of other States who enlisted in Kentucky, but who are now and have been citizens of this State for one year, shall be entitled to the benefits herewith provided. Before applications are allowed, it must appear that the applicants are not already pensioners under the Federal Government, and that they are not already in the possession of a competence, the object being to provide for the indigent and the disabled. The rate of pensions to be paid is fixed as follows by the bill: For total disability, such as the loss of both arms, both legs, or the use of the same, either in battle, skirmish or on picket, or from sickness, exposure or other injuries received during the war, in prison or on the way home—$20 per month. For partial disability, such as the loss of one leg and one arm, in battle, skirmish or on picket, and so disabled as to since render it useless or amputation necessary, $10 per month. For smaller disability, such as the loss of one leg or one arm, or the use of the same, $5 per month. If from inheritance or otherwise any pensioner shall acquire a competence, cease to be a resident of the State or die, his name shall be stricken from the roll. Provision is made for the keeping of a detailed record and it is made the duty of the Board to fix the fees of attorneys prosecuting applications. If a pensioner wastes the State's bounty in dissipation or a dishonorable manner his stipend shall cease.

IMAGES AND EVENTS

Of Days Gone By Recalled by J. B. H. Preachers of the '40's and '50's.

Meeting one of the gray-beard deacons of the Baptist Church at Mayslick, and one of the elders of the Disciples at Sardis, they said in substance to your correspondent: "We felt interested in the story foreshadowed by your 'Reminiscences' article in the BULLETIN of January 21st—a revival of long-gone images and events. It was an inviting prelude—a stirring introductory—an awakening hush call to the veteran preachers to fall into line, and now renew your pen and give the BULLETIN something historic and biographic. Don't keep your recollections locked up as a miser does his coin, but put them in circulation. They will grow brighter by being handled and will surely be entertaining." "Alas!" responded your Decha Valley reporter, "that would involve long stories, filling a volume, perhaps, while the new little daily (BULLETIN) could not afford us more than a half-column now and then for a few off-hand random notes." As it is pleasant for us to dwell in the solemn halls of the past than the realistic bowers of the present, or the dream palaces of the future, we will see if we can bring the train through on time.

The ruthless tread of Time in his five decades has thinned out the rank of the old forty-ones until not a single soldier of the cross in the way of preachers is left. In the demise of Elder Richard C. Ricketts, the last of the defenders of the faith on the old Mayslick battle ground, "crossed over the river to rest under the shade of the trees," and very few of the old boys linger who were on the picket guard of the '40's, and saw the Prather brothers making brick, or Billy Stewart plaining window frames, or architect Wernag "howling the shaft and laying the architecture and spreading the roof above them" of the "Church of Jesus Christ, Mayslick, 1841." Our recollection of Vanhook Lee, the first of the mud-road, old stone school house preachers, is quite distinct, particularly of his ponderous and capacious saddle pockets, in which he carried his New Testament, hymn book, change of clothing and such little presents as the thoughtful sisters sent to his family on the long horseback ride to his home in Kenton town.

We celebrated the Fourth of July, 1846, with the late R. C. Ricketts with prayer and song, music and cannon, orating, dinner and toast-making. He acted as chaplain; Emory Whitaker as orator, J. H. Herndon as declaration and toast reader. Place, A. R. Runyon's woodland grove, (now Joe Laybain's) one-half mile south of the old village. The last talk we had with the venerated pastor was in your city. He seemed and over the report that the progressives were tearing down the walls of the old church to make way for a more fashionable edifice. He regarded the old church as his Alma Mater—the fostering mother of many of the young preachers of the "current reformation," and he protested against the obliteration of the ancient pile, redolent with so many hallowed memories. When we told him the old walls would be left standing on front, rear and sides, and the new house would stand on the old foundation, he realized that the "old paths" were not to be torn up wherein he had "walked" so many years, and he became satisfied. Elder Loos, the preacher of the opening sermon in the new house, rejoiced that the new structure was built upon the old foundation. He no doubt conceived the poetic idea that the old material had been and would be potent absorbers, acting like the graphophone in retaining and hoarding away the very voices of the past, to be given off in responsive and eloquent intonation as occasion might require—prayer for prayer, sermon for sermon, song for song, exhortation for exhortation. In memory of those faded but "good old days" long after he was gone.

"When winters came with deeper snows, And autumn's with a softer haze," It was dedication day, 1841, bright and beautiful, and great multitudes were gathered together to see the new building set apart to the service and worship of Almighty God. The opening hymn was,

"Before Jehovah's awful throne
Ye nations bow with sacred joy;
Know that the Lord is God alone,
He can create and he destroy."

To hear this grand old hymn lined out by a fine rector—Alexander Campbell—with well modulated voice, and then taken up by the leader, Larkin A. Sandilge, and supported by such mellow voices as the Johnsons, Drakes, Wallers, Burgeses, Mitchells and a congregation of a thousand in the chorus was thrilling in the extreme, and made us feel,

"We'll crowd thy gates with thankful songs,
High as the heavens our voices raise,
And earth with her ten thousand tongues
Shall fill thy courts with sounding praise."
The silver-haired bishop of Bethany was the central figure on the platform—the cynosure of all eyes—gentle, grave, commanding.

"His very looks drew audience still as night."

After the dedicatory services concluded, the reading of the 122nd Psalm, etc., the preacher began his great sermon: We think it was in elucidation of the parable of the house-builder, found in the seventh chapter of Luke for forty-seventh, forty-eighth and forty-ninth verses. Being a mere lad, we can't recall his line of argument, but the spell-bound multitude is distinctly daguerrotyped on the canvas of my boyhood's mind. He spoke for three hours—his well rounded and finished periods rolled one upon another, freighted with the ripest thought, and ornamented with the finest passages in English literature, poetic and prose.

I could give you many of the social and private characteristics of this eminent man, as developed in the talks he gave the people at the numerous dinners around the "Old Lick" in his repeated visits in after years, but must close for the present this hasty sketch of one of the memorable pictures in the morning of my life.

J. B. H.

In Memoriam.
WASHINGTON CAMP No. 3, P. O. S. of A. Wm. H. H. has passed the Almighty in his infinite wisdom to remove from our midst our dear beloved brother, Charles Spromberg; Thou art at Rest. That by his death the order loses a beloved and efficient member, and his family a loving son and brother.
Resolved, That we deeply submit to Him who doeth all things well, and that while we bow in humble submission to His will, we feel that our loss is his eternal gain.
Resolved, That our sincere and heartfelt sympathy be extended to the bereaved family and friends, in this hour of sore bereavement, fondly cherishing the hope that he is gone from this subordinate Camp to the great engagement above to dwell with the fathers of our Free America, there to receive a higher degree of Honor.

Hds. Receipts for the week.....2,092
Receipts same week last year.....1,830

The offerings were slightly less than previous week but there was a noticeable increase in the receipts, which were larger than for some time. At the beginning of the week there was a decline in the actual sales. There was during the week, from the opening to the closing sale, a firm, active market, buyers giving the sales close attention and were active bidders. Shipments accepted prices with a slight decline, and rejections were comparatively slight. For good and fine leaf (old) there was an active demand and full prices paid. Medium and red tobacco are in good request and are selling well. Lugs and nondescript were less active, as they have been in active demand, and were taken readily at full prices, manufacturers being in quest of these grades. For all grades of new there was an active market. Good to fine leaf is in active request, selling at full figures. Common and medium leaf is active at full prices. For the common and low grades the demand is active, and full quotations are received.

Of the 1,272 hds (new) 78 sold from $1 to $3.95, 244 from $4 to $5.95, 316 from $6 to $7.95, 177 from $8 to $9.95, 231 from $10 to $14.75, 100 from $15 to $19.50, and 8 from $20 to $25.
Of the 1,557 hds (old) 110 sold from $1 to $3.95, 331 from $4 to $5.95, 521 from $6 to $7.95, 782 from $8 to $9.95, 245 from $10 to $14.75, 162 from $15 to $19.75, 34 from $20 to $24 and 2 at $25.27.

Louisville Tobacco Market
Furnished by Glover & Durrett, proprietors Louisville Tobacco Warehouse.
Sales on our market for the week just closed amount to 4,131 hds, with receipts for the same period of 3,223 hds. Sales on our market since January 1st amount to 22,798 hds. Sales of the crop of 1891 on our market to this date amount to 21,535 hds.

There is not much to report with regard to the condition of our market for new burley this week. At the beginning of the week there was a little irregularity in the market which, however, was of very short duration and the market is now as strong and active as at any time during the season.

The following quotations fairly represent our market for new burley tobacco, crop of 1891:

MAYSVILLE AND MT. OLIVET.

More About the Proposed Electric Road—The Tribune-Democrat Thinks It's a Go.

The issue of the Mt. Olivet Tribune-Democrat that reached this office Monday contains another article on the proposed electric railway between Maysville and that point.

"It is useless to repeat what we have previously stated in regard to this enterprise," remarks the T.-D. "We have said as plainly as could be said that the road would be built if it is possible to build it for any reasonable consideration. We have said that it would not be twenty, ten or five years before the road would be constructed, but that if built at all it would be organized and the work of construction begun in less than a year. We have given the name of the chief projector of the enterprise, a man who has never known such word as fail. We have shown, to a partial extent, the many benefits that would accrue, not only to our own people, but to the people along the road, in the event of the construction of the electric railway. We have urged upon every one to put his shoulder to the wheel and give every aid and encouragement to the proposed line, feeling and believing, as we do, that this is absolutely the last opportunity we will have in years to emerge from 'darkness into daylight' as regards securing railway communication with the outside world. We have shown the construction of the electric railway would double and treble the business of Mt. Olivet in a short time; that the town would become an important shipping point for all the towns and villages and the country at large in a circuit of ten miles or more. We have shown that the gross receipts of the line would approximate closely to $100,000 annually, as it is an established fact that over $50,000 is paid out now every year for the transportation of freight between Maysville and Mt. Olivet."

If the Tribune-Democrat can convince the people that the gross receipts of such a road would amount to $100,000 annually, it will find plenty of men to put up the money to build it.

Railway News.

TOM Maher, until recently yardmaster at Covington for the Kentucky Central, has been promoted to the position of passenger conductor, and given a run between Lexington and Cincinnati.

The comparative railway mileage of the world January 1, 1892, shows Africa to have 6,000 miles; Australia, 13,000; South America, 16,000; Asia, 20,000; Europe, 141,000; North America, 187,500. Total of the world, 383,500.

The monster passenger locomotive which the Baldwin locomotive-works, on the 5th of last month, delivered to the Jersey Central is said to be a marvel of speed and mechanism, and has already made some phenomenal runs. In the boilers are 250 flues. The fire-box is eleven feet by three feet eight inches, and has a water-grate for hard coal. There are four cylinders—two of high and two low pressure. All four cylinders can be used at the same time, and this is the secret of the engine starting and getting under way quickly with a heavy train. The boiler carries 180 pounds of steam and is tested to 220. The whole weight of the engine is 72 tons.

James Yazell Missing.

JAMES Yazell, whose home is in the Sixth ward, has been missing since last Thursday. On that morning he drew his pension, and when last seen he was under the C. and O. trestle near the mouth of Limestone Creek. He is about fifty years old and worked at the cotton mill.

Here and There.

MISS Sophia Albert has returned from Connorsville, Ind.

Mrs. Sudie M. Trow has returned to Bernard after a week's visit to Mrs. Geo. Sulser.

THE Gibney, Gordon and Gibney Comedy Company, well-known to our theatre-going people, will open a week's engagement at the opera house next Monday night.

THE initial issue of the Owingsville Opinion has reached us. It is a welcome addition to the Bulletin's exchange list. Rev. J. H. Herron and David Williamson are the editors and publishers. Mr. Herron is quite well-known in this section, as he formerly had charge of the Augusta M. E. Church and was a frequent visitor in Maysville.

THE hop for the benefit of the Washington Fire Company to be given on the stage at the opera house, Friday night, February 19th, will be managed by the following named gentlemen: Committee of Arrangements—Charles Frank, J. M. O. Ballenger, Charles E. McCarthy, Floor Managers—John H. Eode, (chief), John J. McCarthy, Sherman Ann, R. R. Frost, messenger. The object is a deserving one and it should be liberally patronized. We have been requested by the management to say that no one of questionable character will be allowed in the hall.

ABOUT forty Knights of Pythias of this city, Vanceburg, Augusta and other points will go to Lexington on the early train to-morrow to attend the anniversary of the lodge at that place. Several candidates will be initiated by a Degree Team of Cincinnati, the amplified form being used.

HAVING determined to discontinue business, W. L. Thomas & Brother offer their entire stock of goods at greatly reduced prices. The stock is full and complete, consisting of heating and cook stoves, tinware, iron, stone and granite ware, china, glass and queensware, pottery goods, etc., etc. This is a rare chance to buy goods at low prices. Call early and pick out what you want.

PROFESSOR HICKS in his predictions for February says: "Storm conditions will return on the 14th, 15th and 16th, bringing rain or snow on or touching these dates. The cold wave pending storms will expend itself and reactionary storms will appear about the 20th. The 26th, 27th and 28th are regular storm dates sure to be heard from and to bring a cold ending to the month. Much hard trying weather in February. Prepare for it."

THE revival services at the Third Street M. E. Church will be continued during the week. Services every night at 7:15 o'clock. Rev. G. R. Fronger, of Dayton, Ky., will assist the pastor. All city pastors and church members are invited to attend and co-operate with us in this good work. The meetings will be conducted on the union plan. Let us unite our efforts and our prayers for an outpouring of the Holy Spirit, that sinners may be converted and that all the churches in the city may be revived.

CYRUS RIFFLE.

HORACE BERRY, a colored section hand on the C. and O., died at Covington Sunday quite suddenly. His home was in this city, and he leaves a wife and four children. The Commercial Gazette correspondent speaking of his death says: "He had made a rather hearty meal, when he was taken sick and an hour later expired. He was in the eating car at Eighteenth and Madison and his body was removed from there to the Donnelly Morgue. An investigation made by the doctors summoned seemed to show that the man had died from a complication of stomach and heart trouble, from which he had suffered in the past."

THE Louisville Courier-Journal is publishing cuts and interesting sketches of the prominent clergymen of that city. The subject Sunday was Rev. E. L. Powell, formerly pastor of the Christian Church, of Maysville. Since he took charge of the First Christian Church at Louisville over 200 have been added to the membership. Besides this he has established mission chapels in two of the suburbs of that city—Parkland and Clifton. The Courier-Journal says: "Although quite a young man, hardly thirty-two, Mr. Powell has been a preacher for sixteen years, and few men of his age has had so many calls to churches and other positions of the highest rank. Among the congregational calls declined since coming to Louisville are churches in Allegheny City, Augusta, Ga., (twice) Columbia, etc. He is noted as a 'pastor-evangelist,' and is much demanded for revival occasions. Possibly his most successful effort in special Gospel services was in a ten-days meeting which began at a week day prayer meeting at Maysville and resulted in ninety-four additions to the church."

Several of Them Laid Before the Senate by the Vice President—Important Measures Introduced—Speaker Crisp Unable to Preside in the House—Other

Dispatches From the National Capital.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 16.—The vice president laid before the senate treasury recommendations for the present fiscal year as follows: To continue the recoinage of uncurrent and worn subsidiary coins, $50,000. For salaries and expenses of United States circuit courts of appeal, $42,000. Printing, etc., for department of justice, $3,000; all of which requests were referred to the committee on appropriations.

Senator Casey introduced a bill to reduce the fees on domestic money orders as follows: Not exceeding $5, three cents; from $5 to $10, eight cents; from $10 to $25, ten cents; from $25 to $40, fifteen cents; from $40 to $60, twenty cents; from $60 to $75, twenty-five cents; from $75 to $100, thirty cents.

Senator Vilas introduced a bill amending the copyright law so as to require authors to deliver to the secretary of the interior one copy of their works for each of the states, in addition to the two copies sent to the librarian of congress, and prohibiting the importation of such works while the copyright exists.

A bill providing for a reorganization of both the artillery and infantry arms of the army, prepared by the senate committee on military affairs, as a substitute for several other bills referred to the committee, was introduced by Mr. Manderson.

A bill appropriating $15,000,000 for the improvement of the Mississippi river from the passes to the mouth of the Illinois river was reported and placed on the calendar.

Consideration of the printing bill was then resumed and finally passed.

The Paddock pure food bill was then taken up as the next continuing order. It is entitled: "A bill for preventing the adulteration and misbranding of foods and drugs, and provides for the organization of a food section in the chemical division of the agricultural department, whose duty it will be to procure and analyze samples of food and drugs offered for sale anywhere in the United States, and in case any of them are found to be adulterated or misbranded, to report the case to the United States district attorney for prosecution under the act."

After the reading of the bill and report, the senate at 4:45 went into executive session, and almost immediately adjourned.

In the House.

Speaker Crisp was unable to preside in the house, being slightly indisposed and remaining at his hotel. He designated Mr. McMillin as speaker for the day. Being suspension day a number of local bills were introduced and acted on.

The house adopted a resolution directing the committee on agriculture to investigate the effect of the McKinley law on the agricultural interests of the country.

The Springer free wool bill, placing wool, binding twine and cotton ties and bagging on the free list, and reducing duties on manufactured woolen goods and machinery used in the manufacture of cotton bagging, was favorably reported to the house by a majority of the committee on ways and means.

The house committee on foreign affairs also reported favorably Mr. Geary's bill to absolutely prohibit the coming of Chinese into the United States. Messrs. Hooker and one or two others will make a minority report.

Mr. Mansur, of Missouri, called up the bill extending mining laws of Missouri over the Indian territory. Mr. Culberson, of Texas, demanded a second. Tellers were ordered, and a quorum failing to appear, the house, at 3:45, adjourned.

Prospects of the Silver Bill.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 16.—Owing to the illness of Speaker Crisp no meeting of committee or rules was held yesterday, so that no action has yet been taken on the matter of fixing a date for the consideration of the silver bill. Friends of the bill assert that it will pass the hour notwithstanding the opposition of eastern Democrats, by not less than 25 majority. They express no opinion as to the fate of the measure in the senate.

Took Charge of His Office.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 16.—W. N. Grinnell, of New York, yesterday took the oath of office as third assistant secretary of state, and assumed the duties of his office this morning.

Convention of Wheelmen.

COLUMBUS, O., Feb. 16.—The annual convention of the National League of American Wheelmen met in the Chittenden hotel in this city at 11:15 yesterday. There were ninety-one delegates present, and eighty-six were represented by proxy. The following officers were elected: President, Charles L. Burdett, Hartford, Conn.; first vice president, F. P. Sheridan, Springfield, Ill.; second vice president, Dr. E. Carlton Brown, Elizabeth, N. J.; treasurer, William Brewster, Quincy, Ill.; secretary, Abbott Bassett, Boston. It was decided to hold the next annual meet in Washington, about the middle of July. Secretary Bassett reported that the league had on Feb. 12 23,680 members, an increase of 5,567 during the year just ended. The salary of the secretary was increased from $2,000 to $3,000.

Will Probably Be Released.

ST. LOUIS, Feb. 16.—In an interview last night Mrs. Marion Hedspeith, the wife of the Glendale train robber, stated that she had received cruel treatment at the hands of the San Francisco police, which caused her to attempt suicide by inhaling gas from the jet. This fact has not yet been published. As Mrs. Hedspeith is in a delicate condition, it is probable she will be released from the jail here.

OUTRAGES IN ALASKA

An Uprising Likely to Take Place Up There in the Near Future.

CHICAGO, Feb. 16.—Captain J. J. Healy, one of the leading men of Alaska, is stopping at the Grand Pacific hotel. Captain Healy is on his way to Washington. He represents the interests of southeastern Alaska, and he is going to the national capital to warn the secretary of the interior that unless grievances of the Indian tribes of the Thlinket nation are redressed there is danger of an Indian uprising there.

Last July several of the tribes threatened the whites and the United States steamer Pinta and a force had to hasten from Sitka to Chilkat to suppress the uprising. The Indians again threaten trouble and it is to avoid it that Captain Healy is now on his way to Washington. Canning monopolists are said to have outraged the rights of the natives and are supported in their aggressive policy against the Indians by the government officials in Alaska. The whites are alarmed, and as they are practically defenseless they are in great danger.

Captain Healy says that as the result of a law passed by the last congress there is danger of Indian trouble in Alaska, the law referred to being that which permits a land patent to be granted for land for business or manufacturing purposes.

"Under that law," says Captain Healy, "men have applied for surveys and patents for Indian lands which have never been ceded to the United States, and the whites have seized these lands against the protests of the Indian owners. But the immediate grievance of the Indian tribes is that the canneries that have sprung up threaten to destroy the salmon, the staple food of the Indians."

"If the uprising starts it may be general. Now, the Indians of this nation take for their own use every year hundreds of thousands of salmon, which they dry and store."

"In the Chilkat country, where I have a trading post, there are three big canneries on Chilkat inlet. It is the finest salmon in southeast Alaska and the salmon run there for four months. All the Indians of those parts depend on the salmon of the Chilkat for their food, but the canneries are destroying that natural source of the food supply for the natives."

"These canneries are a curse to Alaska. They seize even the smallest streams. Then they carry up a load of Chinamen and Finns from Victoria or Portland to do the work. These men sign contracts that prevent them from receiving a dollar in wages until they return from Alaska. The companies carry up the supplies for them, and the people of Alaska don't receive a penny's worth of benefit from the canneries."

Captain Healy will also urge while at Washington that congress help Alaska to be suitably represented at the world's fair.

ICE GORGE.

A Pennsylvania Town Likely to Be Swept Out of Existence.

PITTSBURGH, Feb. 16.—Alarming news comes from up the Allegheny river about an ice gorge, twelve miles in length, extending from Red Bank to Monterey. It is the greatest gorge ever known in the valley, and the people of Parker are alarmed lest the backwaters will wipe their town off the face of the earth.

The mayor of Parker telegraphed to Superintendent Martin, of the Davis Island dam on the Ohio river, just below Pittsburgh, for instructions, and Captain Martin replied to use dynamite. The river at Pittsburgh is five and a quarter feet and rising.

General Strike Feared.

INDIANAPOLIS, Feb. 16.—Superintendent Darlington formally discharged all the striking machinists at the Parhandle shops yesterday, and announced his intention of hiring new men to fill their places. The workmen in the other departments then gave notice that the employment of scabs in the machine shop would be the signal for a general strike of all the employees. Darlington and the men are both firm, and a general strike is confidently expected.

The Fifth Wife Divorced.

NORWALK, O., Feb. 16.—Mrs. Nettie Harris House, the fifth wife of the ex-Mayor Hiram K. House, of this city, has been granted a divorce in the Cuyahoga county common pleas court on the grounds of extreme cruelty and neglect of duty. Mrs. House was restored to her former name of Harris. They were married in Kent, O., Aug. 18, 1887. She was a widow with two children.
